BALTIMORE & OHIO

RAILROAD! THIS GREAT WORK OF INTERnal improvement (379 miles from Wheeling to Baltimore, and 403 to Washington,) was opened to the Ohio river in January, 1853, and has now been fully tested and approved, both as a freight and passenger route. This road is located in a romantic country, is solidly constructed, fully equipped, and carefully managed, and is thus rendered an attractive as well as a safe line for travelers. The late completion of the Central Ohio Road, from Columbus to the Ohio river, near Wheeling, adds greatly to the importance of this route, offering, as it does, the most thorough Railroad connection with the entire West. route, offering, as it does, the most thorough Railroad connection with the entire West.

THE ONLY THROUGH TICKETS BETWEEN LOUISVILLE AND THE NATIONAL METROPOLIS are sold by this road, which runs direct to Washington without the delay of passing through Baltimore. It is also the only line by which baggage can be checked to Washington from the West. At Baltimore the road makes a direct connection with the Railroad to Philadelphia and New York, &c.

Passengers going East from Louisville, may proceed by steamboat to Cincinnati, and there take the Railroad to connect with this line, or may leave Louisville by the Jeffersonville Railroad direct.

The Mail Steamers leave Louisville daily for Cincinnati, where they arrive so as to connect with the cars of the Little Miami Railroad at A. M. (or 5 P. M.) for Columbus, connecting there with Central Ohio Railroad, through Newark and Zanesville belleair, on the Ohio, opposite Benwood station, 4 miles below Wheeling. At this place the connection with the B. and O. Kailroad is made direct. By express train of this route, the time from Cincinnati in Railimore is less than 38 hours, and this place the connection with the B. and O. Kaiiroad is made direct. Having occasion for it shortly afterwards, he resorted to mine host for payment. But the landlord, too deep for the countryman, wondered what he meant, and was quite sure no such money had ever been lodged in his hands by the astonished rustic. The Democracy of Cincinnati, after the example of the Democracy of Louisville, are endeavoring to preserve the peace at the approaching election in that city. It appears by the following, taken from a report of proceedings at a meeting held by the Democrats, on Saturday evening last, that their overtures for peace have been received more respectfully than similar propositions were in this city. We earnestly hope that these pacific measures will be carried out in good faith.

We do not know that Know-Nothings in Cincinnati are better than they are here, but it so happens that they have a Democratic Mayor, and an attempt to carry the election by violence, as was done here, might not be so readily carried out:

Alexander Long, on behalf of the Committee appointed at a former meeting to confer with the Execution of the American party, to assert the same to the invitation:

I would be glad to implore you in person to be true to the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the faith of the fathers of this Republic; to protect the fathers all, North and South, about in these strange times, when old things seem to be passing away and all things seem to be coming new. I wish you would rise to their full height. Organize, assemble, be watchful, and be prepared to meet the enemy whenever and however he approaches. Gen. Harney has signalized his advance into the Sioux country by one of the gallant and complete victories ever achieved over an Indian enemy. The victory isso thorough as to strike terror into the whole of the savage tribes occupying that secluded section of country. The battle took place on the section of country. These orders were successfully accomplished, and about three o'clock in the morning the engagement was commenced by an attack on the part of the infantry, which drove the Indians in the direction of Col. Cooke's com-mand, which being ready and eager for the fray, commenced a desperate attack and soon routed them. A running fight followed for some ten miles. At a point of rocks a portion of the Indians are said to have made a stand and to have fought with great desperation, but they were soon completely routed having seventy or eighty men killed and fifty women and children taken prisoners. They suffered also the loss of all their camp plunder, a large amount of dried buffalo meat, their lodges, and fifty horses. The Indian women it is said fought furiously. On the part of Gen. Harney's force, five or six were killed and as many wounded. No officers are reported among the killed.

The Indians concerned in this battle were the Brule Sioux of the Platte, the same who some time since massacred Lieut. Grattan's command near Fort Laramie, the murderers of the mail party, and who had frequently defied the United States troops to meet them in battle. Our letters speak of the battle as being a very gallant and well conducted affair. The war is not expected to end with this battle, and we look for re details and stirring news daily.

with marked decorum.

Mr. Douglas touched on the celebrated Nebraska bill, and advocated its provisions on the broad basis of constitutional right. He next adverted to the cardinal doctrines of Know-Nothingism, to wit: the proscription of Roman Catholics and naturalized efficients and argued the impulsive and injusized citizens, and argued the impolicy and injus-tice of such a principle, taking the ground that it was opposed to the spirit of our institutions and in express contravention of our declarations of right and the organic laws of the land. Several questions were put to Mr. D. during his speech, all of which he answered in a good-humored way. After occupying the attention of his audience for more than an hour, the speaker closed by apologising for any harsh expression that might have escaped him in the excitement of the mo-ment. As I passed from the First Ward polls, intending to go down to the Third Ward, my attention was attracted by a crowd on Green street, about three or four squares from the First Ward polls. As I entered the crowd (which turned out to be a Know-Nothing mob), Mayor Barbee was just concluding a very smiling little speech, which I did not get to hear. The mob rushed off down Green street yelling like savages for "Sam" and "Marshall." Mayor Barbee and Marshal Kidd very smilingly got into their buggy and drove towards the Second Ward polls.

Woll. in Matamoras, seems bewildered after his master's flight from Mexico, and has declared that he will give up the command, which no person is willing to receive. An official note has been sent to him by Govornor Vidauri, requiring him to surcender into the hands of the civil authorities al the arms, ammunition and public property, as his fellows had done in San Luis, but I imagine that he will laugh this to scorn, so long as he has noth-ing to fear personally. Of this fact, I am endeav-oring to persuade my companions.

The utmost prudence, moderation, and for esight must be used in the present circumstances, to pre-vent so many elements of discord from being brought into play; and this will appear evident when you consider that the revolutionary parties now in the field are Carrera, the acting President, who is Santa Anna's tool and creature; Alvarez and Comonfort in the South; Degolado and others in Mil-choacan and the central portion of Mexico; with Vidauri and Garza on the northern frontier. triumph of the revolution is now a matter of his-tory; but the great difficulty that will shortly present itself will be, how to dispose harmoniously of so many conflicting claims, interests, and pretensions. Time only can solve the difficulty. A party of one hundred and fifty of Woll's picked dragoons, who, by evading our vigilance, had succeeded in collecting considerable black mail om the inhabitants, were finally met, on the 30th ult., at a place called "La Piedra," and completely defeated, after sustaining themselves for an hour and a half. We attacked them with some two and a nail. We attacked them with some two hundred men, and I must do them the justice to say that they fought gallantly, for they lost thirty-four men killed, thirty wounded and forty prison-ers. Among the killed was the commanding offier, two lieutenants wounded, and two that were executed on the battle ground, within two hours after their capture. The two executed had ren-dered themselves notorious by their atrocities. Our loss consisted of ten killed and seven wound-

Our force, which is all cavalry, and can be concentrated in less than twenty-four hours, is com-posed of over eight hundred men, and for the present is only intended to keep the escape gallows Wool within Matamoras. My only regret is, that this astounding criminal, and unpitying assassin this astounding criminal, and unpitying assassin, will escape, whatever may happen, owing to his proximity to Fort Brown.

The movement of our army on Monterey will depend on Wool's answer, and we will very soon know if it will take up its line of march on Matamoras or on the city of Mexico. Should it advance on the latter sink-hole of iniquity, it will consist of 8,000 frontier Mexicans. When joined by those who are with Garza, at San Luis, this force will be amply sufficient to stop all the wrangling for office amply sufficient to stop all the wrangling for office and promotions in the "Halls of the Montezumas." Eating fresh beef and mutton without salt, and drinking coffee without sugar, is not the most de-licious of all living, but we willingly forego, for the present, the pleasures of life, if by doing so we can secure the future enjoyment of life and prop-

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT-THE PATEN REAPER CASE.—This great case, involving the validity of the McCormick and Manny patents, came up for hearing before their Honors, Judge McLean and Judge Drummond, of the District Court of Illinois. It was adjourned to this city for hearing by the Circuit Court of the State. The testimony is very voluminous, and the exhibits (as the lawyers call them) very ponderous and nume-rous. The entire machines of both parties are put rous. The entire machines of both parties are put up for inspection in the court-room, and occupy the whole front of the room. Distinguished counsel are here from abroad to represent both sides of the case. Hon. Reverdy Johnson, Mr. Diekinson, of New York, with Mr. Arnold, of Illinois, represent the complainant, and Messrs. Stanton, of Pittsburg, Harding, of Philadelphia, Lincoln, of Illinois, and R. M. Corwin, of this city, appear for the defendant. It will compare away away days, and will the defendant. It will occupy some days, and will attract, as its great importance deserves, a large share uf public attention. Cin. Gazette.

Mailing Letters on the Cars. We copy the following from the Washington Union of the 13th inst :

The practice of mailing letters in mail cars along the mail routes, instead of at post offices, has become so very prevalent that we have been requested to again call attention to the regula-tions of the Post Office Department in reference to this matter. Mailing letters in the mode now so commonly practiced, is wrong, inadmissible, and unsafe, and interferes with the legitimate duties route agents. It was never contemplated by the laws or by the regulations of this department that the mailing car should take the place of the post office, which is the proper place for mailing as well as the delivery of mail matter, but for the better accommodation of the public, froute agents have been permitted to receive and mail in the car such letters and such only as could not write. car such letters, and such only, as could not with ordinary diligence have been placed in the post office before the closing of the mail.' Route agents are therefore expected to put an and to this indiscriminate reception of letters in heir cars in the manner now so frequently and improperly practiced, by closing the opening in their respective cars, through which letters are deposited, and by receiving and mailing such as come clearly within the rule above laid down. Yesterday was another bad day for the panic-makers. After diligent inquiry we could hear of no new cases of fever. Three days have now elapsed, and no new case has developed itself either in the city or at the river. This is truly ard upon that portion of our citizens who have gone to the trouble and expense of packing up and moving their families to the country, as well as those who have put their professional reputation at stake by predicting an epidemic.

SAVED.—H. Alderman, of Albion, N. Y.; bound to Chicago. Wm. Chisholm (one of the owners, we believe), Governor Vidauri has adopted the Cabollos tariff, with such modifications, as it is supposed, will give general satisfaction. The following extract from a speech de ivered by Hon. A. H. Stephens, before a great Mass Meeting of the Democrats in Georgia, is eminently worthy of profound consideration: Mr. Stephens said he wanted the people to hear his words and remember them. He came to speak not to their passions, but to their reason—not to their hearts but to their heads. He had confidence in the people and their capacity to govern themselves. They needed no secret dicta tors; and the had no fears for the result when he saw them, as then, feeling an interest in public affairs, and determined to examine into them. The question was merely this. Were they willing to live under the Constitution of their fathers, or did they want another? We have formerly differed about meas-ures, but now the difference was about a form of government. The Know-Nothings propose to sub-stitute their supreme council for the present Gov-ernment, and their Constitution for the Constituwhich would they have—the Constitution of the country. Let the people choose.—Which would they have—the Constitution of their Fathers, or that of the Know-Nothing Council? That was the real question. He had the Know-Nothing Constitution in his hand. It was genuine and he knew it. It declared that the Su-preme National Council should "decide all mat-ters appertaining to National politics," that it should have power to "tax," and "power to pun-ish," without limitation or restriction. This was more power than was claimed for Congress. Our forefathers guarded our liberty with checks and balances. It made the Senate a check upon the House—the President a check upon the Senate, and the Judiciary a check upon the President. But this party claimed all these powers for its secret National Council alone. Here was power to decide our National politics—power to tax and to punish—power over the sword and power over the purse—in short, all the great powprover over the parts of a few men, and men not chosen by the people at that. What then was the use of our Constitution or of our governwas the use of our Constitution or of our government? This party made another Constitution and Government for us. Would a freeman acknowledge their right to sax him? To punish him? To decide all political questions for him? What was the question? Did the people want a new Government? Were they tired of the Constitution of Jefferson and Washington and Franklin? They must choose between them. They must say whether they wanted another form of Government. He held in his hand the two Constitutions. The one made by our fathers, the other by the Krow-Noth. made by our fathers, the other by the Know-Nothings. Choose ye this day which of the two ye will have.

The new steamer Carrier made a trial trip yester day afternoon, and worked very well. She will leave to-day for St. Louis-going into the Missouri river trade The J. B. Carson and the Bridge City toook or etty fair trips of freight yesterday-fully as much as ey brought down.

The Granite State came up and went on to Cln anati early yesterday morning. She will do a little ecessary repairing, and then, perhaps, take on a load r New Orleans, if she can get it.

The great Jacob Strader is the Cincinnati packe this morning, leaving at 12 o'clock. Captain Summons, the veteran, will command, and our friend Dunning will be found in the office. It is now very doubtful in rence to putting the City of Wheeling and the Moses McLellon in place of the Strader and Telegraph. The hange ought to be made, for the large boats need re ainting, re-furnishing, and overhauling generally the greatest traveling palaces above the falls.

The Belle Quigley, as neat as a new pin, will be down this morning from Carrolton, and return at noon, in command of Captain J. G. Cline.

The Rainbow, one of the finest and fastest boat n the river, is the regular packet this afternoon for Henderson. Indeed, she is about the fleetest of her erunning. Captain Hollcroft stopped off this trip with his family, but his place will be supplied by our ever and courteous friend, W. W. Huston, first clerk ANOTHER DISASTER. - By telegraph we have this morn ng the news of a collision on Lake Michigan, between e propellor Forest City and the schooner Asia. The llision occured near Grand Traverse Bay, at the northern end of the lake, on last Thursday. The Forest City was bound from Buffalo, having on board 400 tons freight and 63 passengers. The Asia was on her way om Chicago to Buffalo. Both boats were sunk, but the passengers and crews were saved in the boats and picked up by the schooner Hamlet, which was near at the time, and which arrived in Milwaukie on Sunday. The Asia had on board 16,000 bushels of corn—but possibly no ssengers. Here is another knotty case for inspectors

REVIEW OF THE MARKET.

Office of Louisville Democrat, September 24, 1855. REMARKS-There has been a fair amount of business ransacted in the general markets since our last, and rmness characterizes nearly every department, with ew changes, all of which are duly noted in the subjoined immary. Considerable activity prevails in the dry bods market, with the prospect of a liberal trade for the eason. All branches of trade are equally active. The New York Tribune says: "The jobbing trade is now ery brisk, and we hear of most astounding amounts of gods sold by some of the leading dry goods houses. It enerally admitted that there were never jobbed in New ork in ten days so many dry goods as within the last en days. Prices are steadily advancing for desirable goods, and, consequently, every one is making good profits. The interior will be abundantly able this fall to ake and pay for a large amount of goods, and the pay-nents thus far are entirely satisfactory, excepting from

Flour and wheat firm at $1 05 and $6 25 for round par ls. Oats firmer, with sales at 25c to the trade. Hay irmer. Hides in active request at previous quotations Increased firmness was imparted this week to the shot and lead market, induced by the receipt of dispatches om St. Louis, quoting an advance in shot of 5c P bag, nd bar lead 1/2c.

We have heretofore referred to the recent opening of a new trade in manufactured tobacco with the city of Chicago. This trade promises to grow to a very great extent. In confirmation of which, we are happy to be able to report a sale this week of 400 boxes fair and choice Kentucky manufactured tobacco at 18@30c to that city.

Lard oil has advanced; ruling price 85c. The market nerewith several dispatches of yesterday's date (18th), from New Orleans. One, addressed to Messrs. Henning & Woodruff, quotes superfine flour at $6 75; corn 70c; oats 38 to 46c, old and new; lard 11c, and dull; mess pork 20, ribbed bacon sides 12c, shoulders 10% to 11c. Another, directed to a New Origans merchant, now in this city, gives mess pork at $20 to $20 50, ribbed sides 12c, shoulders 10½ to 11c; flour $6 62½ to $6 75. A third, to Mr. W. C. Watts, states flour at $6 70 to $6 75, pork $20, ribbed sides 12c. Another, to Mr. E. C. Sloan, quotes bod sides at 12%c, mess pork $20, shoulders 11c, lard ac, wheat $1 35, whisky 85c, lard oil 87/2c, flour $6 75, orn 70c, oats 421/2e. Our advices from California are of a more encourag-ng tenor. Trade matters were improving gradually, ing tenor. Tende matters were improving gradually, and the money market was comparatively easy. In reference to the crops, it was believed that the yield of wheat would be about equal in quantity to that of last year, though on an average not so good in quality. The loss in number of acress was great, but the "plant" having been very large, the aggregate yield, it was thought, would be fully up to that of last year, though on an average not so good in quality. The loss in number of acress was great, but the "plant" having been very large, the aggregate yield, it was thought, would be fully up to that of last year—say 2,000,000 bushels. Of other staple products, there would be an abundance. As a general remark, miners were doing well, and the expectation that the annual yield will be much larger than that of several preceding years, is very general. This cannot be judged, however, by the exports of dust, as a larger proportion of gold has been retained in the State the present year, than for any preceding period of the same duration.

MR. SOLOMONS: Dear Sir: Having been deprived of the pleasure of reading or writing for the last two years, and not having been enabled to procure any spectacles with which I could see any better than without, and which also immediately produced pain and uneasiness, I was induced, by your advertisement, to call at your office and purchased a pair of your improved spectacles, with which I can set to read the finest print with perfect ease and comfort; I can also see with the same case to go about my regular business. No amount would induce hert to part with those she purchased from you. Yours, respectfully,

I remain yours, truly,
No.664 Jefferson street, next door to Preston.

Mr. Solomons: Sir—When you first arrived in this city, I called with Mrs. Beattle at your office, and purchased four pairs of your Patent Spectacles. We found them superior to any we had ever used before. They realized more than we could have expected. We can now see as comfortably as when a girl and boy. I remain yours, respectfully,

J. A. BEATTIE,

MRS. J. A. BEATTIE, Fourth street.

While a maid once wept, While untroubled slept The form of her youthful lover— O'er the chilly bed Of the mouldering dead

An angel paused to hover;
As in grief she bent,
The spirit gave vent
To a pitying tear above her.

The agel had flown, But the tear fell down, Till its flight was well nigh ended-When a flake of snow, To the earth below, From a fleecy cloud descended And the snow-flake white With the tear-drop bright, In a common form was blended.

We copy the following lines from the back a one-dollar bill. They portray the feelings of

And thou must go, my beautiful, To pay remorseless dun— Must pass forever from my hand, My cherished, only "1."

Thou wert as good as "X" or "V,"
For thou wert all I had; And now to lose thee, in this way, Confound it, 'tis too bad.

The rich have stores of larger bills, And double eagles too; But they can't feel the love I felt, My flimsy rag, for you.

But go away—I cannot smile,
For really 'tis no joke,
To think I am, when thou art gone,
Decidedly "dead broke."

THE DECENCIES OF THE ABOLITION PRESS. Even the grave is not sacred from the polluting ouch of Abolitionism.. Most of our readers remember the infamously savage comments of the New York Tribune which followed its announce-ment of the death of Senator Norris, of New Hampshire. The anti-slavery Standard thus an-nounces the death of the lamented Rev. Dr. Cone, of New York:

"The city journals are heaping fulsome eulo-iums upon the late Rev. Spencer H. Cone, D. D., Baptist) who died on the 28th ult., at an ad-"The city journals are beaping fulsome eulogiums upon the late Rev. Spencer H. Cone, D. D., (Baptist) who died on the 28th ult., at an advanced age. Whatever others may say, we cannot forget that the Doctor has been from the first one of the most unscrupulous opponents of the antislavery cause, and foremost among those who sought to hide the wickedness of slavery under the mantle of Christianity, and to persuade the North to render a prompt obedience to the fugitive slave a Christian minister, is to libel Him who came to deliver men from bondage, not to enslave them. Whatsoever may have been his professions, he was a practical Atheist, a condemner of God and his laws. And yet so-called anti-slavery religious journals prate of his eminent piety and the completeness and beauty of his Christian character! If he had been suspected of unsoundness upon any he had been suspected of unsoundness upon any point of doctrine laid down in the popular creed, the same journals would scarcely have admitted the possibility of his getting into Heaven, even though his life had been devoted to works of charity and merey!"

Some of the fair sex don't believe they were made for the special happiness of the race, and therefore direct their lives without any reference to anybody's likes or dislikes. To such the followto anybody's likes or dislikes. To such the following piece of advice has no meaning; but to those women who think their life is to harmonise and blend with man's—whose ambition is to make loving and loved wives, it has a suggestive word:

Heaven knows how many simple letters, from simple-minded women, have been kissed, cherished, and wept over by men of far loftier intellect. So it will always be to the end of time. It is a lesson worth learning, by those young creatures who seek to allure by the accomplishments, or dazzle by their genius, that though he may admire, no man ever loves a woman for these things. He loves her for what is essentially distinct from, loves her for what is essentially distinct from, though not incompatible with them—her woman's nature and her woman's heart. This is why we so ten see a man of high genius or intellectual pow-r, pass by the De Staels and Corinnes, to take nto his bosom some wayside flower, who has noth-ng on earth to make her worthy of him, except that he is—what so few of your "female celebrities"

Missing Vesser.—The beautiful clipper ship "Guiding Star," Capt. McClelland, of about 2,000 tons, built at St. John, N. B., by Mr. Wright, and owned at Liverpool, has not been heard from since Febuary last, and there is great reason to fear that she is totally lost. She sailed from Liverpool for Melbourne, Australia, on the 9th of January, 1855, with over 400 Australian emigrants. She was HAVE NOW ON HAND AT MY is insured in New York and Philadelphia for $40,

The generality of men ard more capable of great efforts to obtain their ends, than of long perseverance. Their laziness or inconsistency robs them of the fruits of the best beginnings. They are overtaken by those they have left behind them: such as marched, perhaps, slowly, but with a constant resolution.

BURKHARDT'S FEVER AND AGUE REMEDY, the most certain, safe, and ef fectual remedy ever made known to the public. In placing this medicine before the public we do it with that confidence which is obtained only by long experience. This preparation we have been making for the last ten years, and have given it to all classes and conditions, to the old man and the infant, and always with the utmost success. The advantages claimed for it are the quick effect produced, the small quantity necessary to effect a curag (seldom more than one dose), the permanency of the cure, and the simplicity of the compound, as it contains nothing of a deleterious nature, so ansexind, so mercury, so QUININA, so that it may be given to the infant of the most tender age.

It is composed of the purest articles to be found in the country, and compounded by lienry Burkha dt in person, who, having had fifteen years experience in the drug business, is competent to prepare it according to the strictest rules of Pharmacy.

One bottle akcups effects a cure, and we have certificates where one bottle has cured four cases, and a number where three have been cured, when with other preparations it is necessary to take several bottles to effect a cure, and several more to keep it cured.

This article is soid by most of the druggists throughout the city and country, and the low price of first

II. History—studied briefly in its own department, but continually in connection with the Civil Law, the Common Law of England and America, the Organic and International Law of Bovernment. It is proper to mention that this high head of Law is not passed over here in the ordinary mode. It is discussed and studied, not only abstractedly, on the self-evident axioms and the proposition of the arbitrary Law, but in the examples of the diversified forms of Government which have been and are now existent. Its course is, however, commenced and terminated in exercises upon our own Constitutions and Statutory Organic Law, and the history of the origin, formations, revolutions, mutations, and extensions of our own Government. Everything obtained elsewhere is appropriated in this course to the illustration, analysis, and synthetic discussion of our own system.

IV. International Law. The course in this department must of course be commenced with the necessary or natural Law, and combrace the history of the customary and other arbitrary Law down to the present day among civilized and commercial nations. But especial attention will be paid to the public acts, treaties, and statutes of the United States, which recognize, assert, and prescribe the rights and duties of the Government and its citizens towards other nations, their citizens, and statutes of the United States, which recognize, assert, and pres
